Message from Inspector Andrew

I am sure a number of you attended the recently held Royal Norfolk Show, and may have visited the Emergency Services Village where you may have had an opportunity to speak to your local Beat Managers and discussed any local concerns you may have. Should you have any other local issues you wish to discuss then contact myself or your local Beat Manager or the South Norfolk Engagement Officer, PC Jim Squires.

On a separate note, following a number of recent reports of fires having been started deliberately, I would like to remind you all that should you notice anything suspicious then please let us know via 101, or if a crime is in progress then to call 999. Norfolk Fire Service have attended these incidents and are working alongside Police with their enquiries.

Message from your Beat Manager Pc Sansbury

"I hope that you've all enjoyed the fine weather we've been having - I certainly know I have. I've also really enjoyed meeting and catching up with members of the public at a number of community engagement events held throughout the South Norfolk district. From local village fetes, to countyextravaganzas, such as the Royal Norfolk Show. It's been really great to see that people support, and have a real admiration of the work that we do, and it always makes me smile when kids say that they want to be a police officer when they grow up.

The World Cup has also been a real talking point over the last couple of weeks, and I've noticed that all of the local communities have really come together. From my recent experiences, I've seen that the behaviour and consideration of football fans has been great in South Norfolk. It's worth considering though that we are continuing to see a number of people drink driving on match days, and we are keenly aware of the link between high level sporting events and instances of domestic violence and racially aggravated offences.
